

Environmental Leadership Program

A collaboration between The Women's Museum: An Institute for the Future and the Texas Discovery Gardens

The Environmental Leadership Program (ELP) follows a curriculum that will educate participants about environmental issues and leadership skills.

Students will learn:

- Environmental awareness and ways to live “green”
- Career paths associated with environmental leadership
- Valuable leadership skills
- Local environmental issues and urban sustainability
- Strategies to impact environmental policy decisions

For more information about this hands-on, service-oriented program, contact:

Denita Powell Malvern
The Women's Museum:
An Institute for the Future
Education Programs Manager
dpowell@thewomensmuseum.org
(214) 915-0890

Neli Spurrell
Texas Discovery Gardens
Coordinator of Children's Education
edu@texasdiscoverygardens.org
(214) 428-7476 extension 27

Support provided by the JPMorgan Chase Foundation

