

MAURA WOMEN HELPING WOMEN AWARDS

34TH ANNUAL MAURA WOMEN HELPING WOMEN AWARDS THE EVENING OF THURSDAY, MAY 19, 2011, AT THE WOMEN'S MUSEUM

Established in 1978 by the Women's Center of Dallas, the Women Helping Women Awards pay tribute to individuals for extraordinary contributions to the success and well-being of women and children in the Dallas Metroplex. In 1985, the awards were renamed the Maura Women Helping Women Awards to honor Maura McNiel, founding president of the Women's Center, who continues to set a standard of passion, spirit, and commitment for women's issues.

In 2007, The Maura Women Helping Women Awards found its new home and appropriate niche at The Women's Museum: An Institute for the Future, a Smithsonian Affiliated Institution.

2011 MAURA WOMEN HELPING WOMEN AWARDS RECIPIENTS

Wanda Brice ✦ Phyllis Farragut ✦ Delia Jasso ✦ Cathy Moffitt
Jan Pruitt ✦ Pat Vaughan ✦ Alinda Wikert

There have been over 180 Maura recipients over the last 33 years. Former First Lady Laura Bush, U.S. Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison, Louise Raggio and Ebby Halliday Acers are among the past recipients of this distinguished award.

The Maura Award makes an important difference in our community. Not only for those who receive the award, but also for those who receive encouragement to continue and even excel in championing the causes facing women and girls.

Proceeds from this event support The Women's Museum's mission of bringing to life the voices, talents, achievements, aspirations, and stories of the past, present, and future.

Hosted by The Women's Museum, The Maura Awards provides an exciting opportunity for sponsorship that recognizes women who go to extraordinary measures to make life better for other women and children.

Please take a moment and choose your level of support!
